Operations Manager Report
April, 2015

I have started to install this year's meters and vaults. Palm Construction is helping on the vaults this year again. As of this writing 30 of 61 meters have been installed. In addition, 4 meter vaults and a half dozen setters have been installed.

All meters installed last season are working. I continue to be impressed by the strength of the radio reception. I can read 15-20% of the meters from my back deck. I was even able to read Wintergreen from Highland.

All of last year's scrap metal and used tires were taken to Cascade Concrete and Les Schwab for disposal during the annual scrap metal drive.

The back door to the sod hut has been repaired and fitted with a new lockset to repair last year's vandalism.

And finally, grass is sprouting at last year's dig site on West Fawn creek. Looking good.
